Leading the Pearsall Mavericks attack will be their two quarterback platoon system of Sirr Delgado #12 their left handed signal caller who throws the deep ball very well but panics under pressure and not very mobile must pressure him at all times. The other quarterback will be Chris Martinez the right handed signal caller does run the ball quite well but struggles throwing the ball and must be corraled and tackled. The Pearsall Mavericks will feature a trio of running backs in the ground attack with the likes of Meme Cuevas #22 a very fast runner with excellent and is their Most Dangerous Weapon that must be shutdown.

Jacob Youngblood #42 a big strong running back not very explosive but is very physical and is a two-way starter and Joey Amaya #25 a small running back but is quick and makes good cuts used on screen passes out of the backfield and must punish him every play.

The men on the front line will be Marcos Gomez #70 at center a big but slow off the ball has trouble getting to the second level. Abraham Ortiz #77 at left tackle a big strong lineman weighs 275 lbs. but very slow footed, Marcos Salazar #52 at left guard their smallest offensive lineman but is quick and does get to the second level. Jonathan Morales #62 at right guard a big offensive lineman that struggles to get to the second level and must be attacked. Ruben Barrera #78 a returning starter by far their biggest and best offensive lineman that does fire off the ball must stay low on him.

The visiting C.C. Winn Mavericks will enter this non-district gridiron finale sporting an overall season record of 2-1. Offensively the C.C. Winn Mavericks mentored by offensive coordinator Heriberto Roiz are averaging 202 yards rushing per game and 62 yards passing per game for a total average of 264 offensive yards per game.

Leading the C.C. Winn Mavericks' offense is their talented quarterback Ethan Johnson who is their field general and a standout runner when carrying the ball and also shares the ground attack with the back field duo of Marc Cardenas and Fernando Zapata who all three have the ability to take the pigskin to the end zone on any given play.

Johnston as of late has implanted the short passing game with the likes of a sure handed receiving corps the likes of Jared Roiz, Raul Solis, Ernesto Vasquez. Jose Blanco as well as the two running backs out of the backfield. Paving the way for the C.C. Winn Mavericks' ground game as well as their passing game is a solid group of young men that game in and game out battle their hearts out in the trenches with the likes of Daniel Ruiz, Adrian Munoz, Juan Guerra, Cesar Valdez and Jaime Rodriguez.

The C.C. Winn Mavericks patented aggressive, hard hitting and quick pursuing defensive unit under the guidance of co-defensive coordinators Rene Ramirez and Saul Salas who last week held the potent Eagle Pass Eagles offense to their season lowest offensive output are only allowing 79 yards rushing per game and 94 yards passing per game for a total of 173 yards per game thus far. Leading the stingy Mavericks defense are their stellar defensive front six comprised by Alexis Ontiveros, standout Ricardo Morales, Jose Hinojosa, and Maximiliano Garcia who battle in the trenches and supported by a pair of fast and hard hitting dynamic linebacker duo the likes of Alex Chris Garcia and Patricio Hernandez. The C.C. Winn Mavericks' secondary unit features Domingo Duran, Azael Rodriguez, German Velasquez, Hector Nunez and Gilberto Vasquez
